

Each employee must file this Iowa W-4 with his/her employer. Do not claim more allowances than necessary or you will not have enough tax withheld. You may file a new W-4 at any time if the number of your allowances increases. You must file a new W-4 within 10 days if the number of allowances previously claimed by you decreases.

Penalties apply for willfully supplying false information or for willful failure to supply information, which would reduce the withholding allowances. If you file as exempt from withholding and you incur an income tax liability, you may be subject to a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax.

Claim exemption from withholding if you are an Iowa resident and both of the following situations apply:

(1) for 2020 you had a right to a refund of all Iowa income tax withheld because you had no tax liability, and, (2) for 2021 you expect a refund of all Iowa income tax withheld because you expect to have no tax liability. Nonresidents may not claim this exemption. You must complete a new W-4 within 10 days from the day you anticipate you will incur an Iowa income tax liability for the calendar year (or your fiscal year). If you anticipate you will incur an Iowa income tax liability for the following year, then you must complete a new W-4 on or before December 31 of the current year. If you want to claim an exemption from withholding next year, you must file a new W-4 with your employer on or before February 15.

Taxpayers 64 years of age or younger: See your payroll officer to determine how much you expect to earn in a calendar year. You are exempt if:

Military personnel in active duty status, as defined in Title 10 of the U.S. Code, are exempt from withholding. - If you are single and hold more than one job, you may not claim the same allowances with more than one employer at the same time. If you are married and both you and your spouse are employed, you may not both claim the same allowances with both of your employers at the same time.

Taxpayers with net income of $45,000 or more cannot claim withholding allowances for the child and dependent care credit.
